NOTES

Investment in the Fund involves significant risks due to, among other things, the illiquidity of the interests, the nature of the Fund's investments and actual and potential conflicts of interest. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective or that there will be any return of capital. Investors should have the financial ability and willingness to accept the risks (including the risk of loss of the entire investment) for an indefinite period of time and should consult their financial, tax and accounting advisors regarding the appropriateness of making an investment in the Fund. Any offering of investments in the Fund will be open only to investors who meet certain criteria. Please refer to the Private Placement Memorandum for more detailed discussion of the risks and other considerations described below as well as additional risks. As the Fund's investment program develops and changes over time, an investment in the Fund may be subject to additional and different risk factors from those described herein.

Net of fees return: The return is equal to the change in value of the Fund (for new issue eligible investors), including capital appreciation and income, as a percentage of the beginning value. Returns of new issue ineligible investors will vary. The amount earned is the difference between the beginning and ending values, adjusted for the net of all contributions and withdrawals (cash flow). The rate of return is calculated on a time-weighted basis for all investments and is net of 1) trading teams' fees; 2) broker commissions and expenses related to trading and the administration of the Fund; 3) the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains; 4) the Series C/C2 (1.00%) or Series E (1.50%) per annum management fee; (5) pro forma calculations that adjust for the incentive allocation by accruing for the estimated incentive allocation on a monthly basis; and 6) operating expenses. The time-weighted rate of return minimizes the effect of cash flows on the investment performance. The management fee is payable monthly in arrears at the rate of one twelfth of the annual fee of the ending net asset value ("NAV"). The incentive allocation for Series C/C2 is calculated at 10% of net profits. The incentive allocation for Series E is 15% of net profits. No incentive allocation is charged in loss periods or until prior period losses have been made up. Additionally, a monthly incentive allocation is calculated based on the profits of the Fund and reversed if losses occur, but never beyond what was previously accrued. Performance of Riverview Omni Offshore Fund (Cayman) Ltd. (which commenced operations on April 1, 2023), also a feeder of Riverview Omni Master Fund LP, will vary. The net of fees return is representative of the after fee return for an investment of capital and its appreciation or depreciation for the period. The net of fees return for each year assumes that an investor was in the Fund from the beginning of the year (or period), made no subsequent contributions and withdrawals and remained in the Fund until the end of the year (or period). Performance in individual partner accounts will vary due to income and expense allocation differences as well as timing differences.

Series C interests were first sold on March 1, 2023. Returns prior to March 1, 2023 represent the historical performance of the Fund's Series D interests (which bear no management fee or incentive allocation) restated to reflect the Series C/C2 1.0% per annum management fee and 10% incentive allocation. Series E interests were first sold on January 1, 2023. Returns prior to January 1, 2023 represent the historical performance of the Fund's Series D interests (which bear no management fee or incentive allocation) restated to reflect the Series E 1.50% per annum management fee and 15% incentive allocation.

RISK STATISTICS DEFINITIONS

Annualized Volatility represents the standard deviation of monthly returns since inception.

Maximum and Minimum Monthly Returns represent the largest and smallest monthly change in the NAV of the Fund since inception.

Maximum Drawdown represents the worst period of "peak to valley" performance for the Fund, regardless of whether or not the drawdown consisted of consecutive months of negative performance.

Downside Deviation is similar to the standard deviation of monthly returns except it assumes the squared difference for positive monthly returns is zero. Downside deviation aims to isolate the negative portion of volatility.

Sharpe Ratio is a risk-adjusted measure developed by William F. Sharpe, calculated by dividing the Fund's excess return relative to the risk-free rate (defined as the rate of return of the Citi Three-Month U.S. Treasury Bill Index) by the standard deviation of the Fund's return.

Beta represents the volatility to the MSCI AC World Index (USD).
